Introduction

Welcome to the Federal Law Enforcement Training Centers (FLETCs). Now that you have arrived, registered and been assigned a room, you are ready to begin your FLETC experience. The information in this Student Handbook can guide you on your way and will greatly enhance your learning experience. We will make every effort to make your stay with us a positive and rewarding one.

History

Originally a bureau of the Department of the Treasury, the FLETC became a component of the newly formed Department of Homeland Security (DHS) on March 1, 2003. Prior to the inception of the FLETC, the concept of consolidated law enforcement training circulated for a number of years until a pivotal moment in the late 1960s.

Two studies indicated a clear need for a shared facility for consolidated Federal law enforcement training and highlighted a critical lack of:

- Quality training
- Permanent, trained cadre of instructors

- Adequate physical facilities
- Standardized course content
- Cost-effective training

The studies extensively analyzed the requirements for basic, advanced, in-service, and refresher training as well as specialized training for Partner Organizations (POs). As a result, Congress authorized the construction and appropriated funds for the establishment of an organization dedicated to train Federal law enforcement agencies. Initially established in 1970 as the Consolidated Federal Law Enforcement Training Center (C-FLETC) based in Washington, D.C., the organization relocated to its present headquarters in Glynco, Georgia in 1975 and became known as the FLETC. The FLETC now serves as an interagency training facility for more than 91 Federal organizations and operates four domestic TDPs, to include: Glynco, Artesia, Charleston, and Cheltenham. Individually, these locations each perform a vital role; collectively, they serve to meet the critical needs for law enforcement training throughout the United States.

Training Delivery Point (TDP) History

Artesia, New Mexico

TDP is home to a wide array of basic and advanced Law Enforcement programs. Notably, the U.S. Border Patrol, Bureau of Indian Affairs, tribal police, and Federal Air Marshals all base training academy operations in Artesia. Post Sept. 11, Artesia played a fundamental role in training for the Federal Air Marshal Service and the Federal Flight Deck Officer programs. These programs are still conducted in Artesia today. Artesia played a role in providing one of the signature Center Basic training programs, the Land Management Police Training (LMPT). In FY17, the Uniformed Police Training Program (UPTP) was added. Artesia plays an important role for the U.S. Secret Service and several other federal law enforcement agencies in the western U.S. The Artesia TDP offers instructor training in Firearms, Driving, Physical Techniques, Law enforcement Tactics, Active Threat, Officer Safety and Survival, and many more.

Charleston, South Carolina

TDP specializes in maritime and advanced training for various agencies. Charleston serves as the center of training for the U.S. Coast Guard's Maritime Law Enforcement Academy, Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts, Federal Probation and Pretrial Academy and the Food and Drug Administration. Charleston also supports various advanced training programs for the Immigration and Customs Enforcement, Customs and Border Protection, Naval Criminal Investigative Service and Transportation Security Administration. A signature component of the Charleston complex is the assortment of boat boarding platforms and shipboard training venues, to include the SS Cape Chalmers, a 494 foot Break-bulk Cargo Ship retired from the Military Sealift Command.

Cheltenham, Maryland

TDP was established by Congress through public law to support the in-service and continuing professional training needs of Federal and local law enforcement in the National Capital Region (NCR). Cheltenham is a non-residential facility specializing in advanced training with an emphasis on vehicle operations, firearms, and tactics. Cheltenham has become recognized as a key provider in the NCR for refresher and qualification training and pre-deployment preparation. The facility hosts several onsite training partners, to include the Washington, D.C. Metropolitan Police Department, Department of State, Pentagon Force Protection Agency and the United States Capitol Police. Comprehensive driver training venues include an extensive off-road course. Of note, Cheltenham operates one of the largest known fully enclosed, climate controlled firearms facilities, including a 100-yard range among the seven individual ranges under one roof.

Glynco, Georgia

TDP serves as a hub for basic training for numerous federal law enforcement agencies. Glynco serves as a major training location for the core FLETC Center Basic training programs: the Criminal Investigator Training Program (CITP), the Land Management Police Training Program (LMPT) and the Uniformed Police Training Program (UPTP). The approximately 1,600 acre facility contains a wide range of specialized venues for the basic and advanced training of uniformed and investigative law enforcement personnel.

In 1982, training was extended to state, local, rural, campus, and tribal law enforcement officers for advanced and specialized subjects. Today, the FLETC also exports international training to San Salvador, El Salvador; Gaborone, Botswana; Budapest, Hungary; and Bangkok, Thailand. Through the expanded use of technology in training, programs are delivered when and where they are needed.

Standards of Conduct

At all times, you are expected to conduct yourself in a manner befitting a government employee. Executive Order 11222 (18 U.S.C. 201) states the basic philosophy of conduct for those who carry out the public business: “Where government is based on the consent of the governed, every citizen is entitled to have complete confidence in the integrity of his government. Each individual officer, employee or advisor of government must help earn and must honor that trust by his own integrity and conduct in all official actions.” You are expected to adhere to these principles and to standards of behavior that will reflect credit upon the Government. Additionally, you are reminded that the Office of Personnel Management regulations state that Federal employees shall not engage in criminal, infamous, dishonest, immoral, or notoriously disgraceful conduct, or other conduct prejudicial to the Government. Included in the Government Code of Conduct is a statement regarding the responsibility to protect and conserve all Federal property.

You must be constantly aware that your behavior both at FLETC and in the local community is reflective not only of yourself, but also of the Federal Government, FLETC and the agency that you represent and work for. Model conduct is particularly important in your dormitories, where the rights of others to an environment conducive to study and rest are paramount. Misconduct in violation of CFR 31 Part 700, on or off FLETC, at any time, is grounds for disciplinary action, to include dismissal from training.

Student Honor Code

The Student Honor Code is based on the premise that persons aspiring to serve as law enforcement agents/officers should exhibit the highest levels of personal conduct and integrity. The Student Honor Code prescribes that all work submitted by a student be the sole product of the student. You have an obligation to uphold the highest standards of integrity in training, which includes a refusal to tolerate dishonesty by other students. You should have an active interest in contributing to the existence of a high sense of moral and social responsibility on the part of all students. All allegations of cheating must be reported to the appropriate personnel, typically your Program Specialist.

The Student Honor Code applies not only to written examinations, but also to all work performed in graded practical exercises (PE) and laboratory exercises of a training program. Student Honor Code violations, as outlined in FLETC Directive 67-35.C, "Student Misconduct," will result in an expulsion from training. The following are considered to be violations of FLETC's Student Honor Code as it pertains to dishonesty (cheating) on written examinations and graded PEs:

- Copying from another student's work.
- Soliciting, giving, and/or receiving unauthorized aid (e.g., intentionally firing on another student's targets to help them qualify; telling a student the evaluated criteria of a Practice Exercise (PE) before the evaluation).
- Duplicating or replicating of any part of an examination, laboratory exercise or PE (e.g. cutting or copying from another student's Affidavit or Status Report and pasting it in your Affidavit or Status Report).
- Exchanging and/or transmitting examination questions/materials or study aides from one class to another.

- Use of or possession of duplicated or replicated examination questions/materials.
- Using unauthorized aids.
- DO YOUR OWN WORK!!

Each instance of alleged cheating will be fully investigated, to determine the validity of the allegation. Allegations of cheating shall be made a matter of official record, together with the results of the investigation and appropriate action. If you are found cheating, you will immediately be dismissed from training. If you are dismissed from training because of cheating, you will not be permitted to attend subsequent FLETC training. Upon receipt of this handbook, you agree to the pledge that you will neither give nor receive aid from any unauthorized source before or during an examination or PE and that if you observe or learn of another student's violation of FLETC Student Honor Code, you are bound to report to the Program Specialist the name of such student(s) involved and furnish such evidence that is available to support your charge. For FLETC Student Honor Code to operate successfully, the cooperation of the entire student body of FLETC is essential.

Classroom Conduct

Sleeping, eating, the use of ear buds, the use of tobacco products, talking on cell phones, and reading of non-training related material is strictly prohibited in the classroom. During an authorized break, students are permitted to take their cell phones out of the main classroom and go outside to text or make calls. Cell phone use is prohibited in the main classroom and hallway areas. If authorized by your agency, students may use laptop devices to take notes or view class material in the main classroom. During use, these devices should not be a distraction to other students. In the event a distraction is reported, immediately stop using the device while an agreeable alternative solution is pursued. Non-alcoholic drinks may be permitted in the classroom, provided the beverage containers have a lid. Certain training locations, such as computers labs, may prohibit beverages.

ARTESIA in addition

The U.S. Border Patrol, and the Bureau of Indian Affairs prohibit basic students using cell phones during the training day. Exceptions may be granted based on student leadership roles by the agency.

Fraternization Policy

The students and staff have the right to expect that decisions and evaluations are based upon proficiency, impartiality and professionalism. Such an environment encourages mutual professional respect, as the fundamental basis for student/staff relationships at FLETC and contributes to the continued effective performance of the duties and responsibilities of FLETC. Fraternization and other inappropriate student/staff relationships violate the high standards needed to maintain and assure the effective performance of duties and maintenance of public trust. The definition of “staff” is interpreted broadly; to include FLETC instructors, FLETC support personnel, agency staff and contract personnel who have direct contact with students. It does not matter that the instructor or staff member is not assigned to your class or program. All incidents of fraternization should be reported to the Program Specialist.

Grievances

Students are encouraged to address issues or grievances as they arise. Students should start with their Class Coordinator, to resolve these at the lowest level and in a timely manner. Most issues can be resolved informally by discussing the matter with the Class Coordinator, who will elevate or consult with the chain of command, if needed. In addition to utilizing the Class Coordinator, students have multiple avenues to address grievances.

FLETC Student Feedback Process

FLETC's Student Feedback process provides for a continual evaluation of the course content and instruction. The surveys are collected electronically and can be submitted at any time. Student feedback surveys provide students an opportunity to address grievances with instruction, student conduct, potential offensive or inappropriate language or behavior, and fairness in grading.

FLETC Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) Office

FLETC EEO Office seeks to prohibit and prevent harassment, discrimination, and retaliation in the training environment for participation in activities protected by various civil rights laws.

Students may contact EEO Office: \(912\) 267-3316 or email the EEO Office general email box, fletc-eeo@fletc.dhs.gov.

FLETC Ombudsman

The Ombudsman Program serves as an independent resource that provides a confidential, neutral, and informal process to facilitate fair and equitable resolutions to concerns that arise in the organization, and to also serve as an information and communication resource, upward feedback channel, advisor, dispute resolution expert, and change agent.

Students may contact the Ombudsman at fletc.ombudsman@fletc.dhs.gov.

FLETC Chief Security Office (CSO)

FLETC Chief Security Office (CSO) conducts investigations of criminal and serious misconduct involving FLETC staff, students and training operations. Allegations of misconduct involving FLETC resources may be reported to the Office of Professional Responsibility (OPR) Hotline at \(912\) 261-4598 or by email at fletc.opr.complaints@fletc.dhs.gov.

While all grievance and appeal decisions of FLETC leadership are final, students may inform our accrediting organization, Council on Occupational Education (COE), if they feel their issues are not satisfactorily resolved (NOTE – the COE is not recognized as a formal appeal authority within FLETC directives).

The Council on Occupational Education (COE) can be reached at:

Media Services

Media services are provided to support all students attending FLETC training programs, however, the scope, scale, and materials provided to each program varies based on the training program and Training Delivery Point you will attend. You may receive printed textbooks, handouts, and class schedules on your first day of class or you may be given a username and password to the eFLETC ecosystem that will allow you access to your student materials online at any time. Additionally, you may have access to FLETC's Multimedia Center computer labs, web access to thousands of scientific journals, and internet access via the Guest Wireless Network.

Student Honor Code

You are required to attend all scheduled classes and training sessions. You will not be granted annual leave while you are in training, unless extenuating circumstances apply. If unforeseen circumstances arise, your leave request must be coordinated through both your Program Specialist and your agency. As a general rule, if you miss one or more of the first three (3) days of basic training, you will not be permitted to participate in that class. Special considerations will be given if you experience unavoidable delays in travel to FLETC. If a laboratory exercise is missed as a result of a FLETC Health Unit medical restriction, the training must be "made up" after hours. For emergency situations only (e.g., death in the family, illness, hospitalization, court appearance, etc.) a student may miss no more than 24 hours of training during the training program. This typically equates to three (3) training days. Also, when a student misses a substantial amount of training in one topical area (Physical Training Division (PTD) sessions, firearms, tactics, etc.) the student may be dismissed from training. A substantial amount typically equates to three (3) consecutive sessions of a specific topic area. When, in the judgment of the Training Management Division, Division Chief, or designee, your cumulative absences result in too many classes being missed, and your success in the program is severely compromised, you will be dismissed from training and returned to your agency.

Alcoholic Beverages

Alcoholic beverages shall not be consumed or possessed by any personnel during normal training hours or adjacent to a training area at any time. During non-training hours, your use of alcohol becomes a personal choice, but that choice cannot, in any way, interfere with your training or place others at risk. The general rule is to refrain from consuming any alcoholic beverages at least eight (8) hours prior to duty. That rule applies to our training environment as well. Your training is too important for you to place the consumption of alcohol ahead of your success in training. Even the odor of alcohol on your person during training hours will result in a stoppage of training in order to investigate if you are placing yourself or others at risk. Irresponsible alcohol use including DUI/DWI will result in disciplinary action, possible arrest and/or removal from the training program. Licensing requirements prohibit you from bringing alcoholic beverages purchased elsewhere other than designated areas. Be responsible with your alcohol consumption and always use a designated driver. Some of our agencies have employees attending training that are under the legal age of 21 to consume or purchase alcohol. It is against the law to purchase and/or provide alcohol to persons under the age of 21. FLETC policy and directive permits only beer and wine to be consumed on FLETC property and designated areas, no hard liquor is permitted.

Per FLETC Bulletin 2021-01-Sale, Service, and Consumption of Alcoholic Beverages at FLETC Facilities (Nov. 13, 2020)

The only types of alcohol that may be introduced on a FLETC facility are beer and wine.

a. Sale of alcoholic beverages is not authorized:

- (1) To any person under the legal drinking age of 21;
- (2) To anyone in an obviously intoxicated condition; or

- g. Students are prohibited from possessing kegs of beer or quantities of alcoholic beverages in their dormitory rooms or common areas in excess of a reasonable quantity for personal use. "Drinking parties" are not permitted.

Misuse of alcoholic beverages by students will be handled as a student disciplinary matter.

Random room inspections are conducted by your Program Specialist to ensure FLETC dorm policies are being followed. In cases of serious violations, class program specialists and agency representatives will be notified to take appropriate action to resolve the matter.

Fire

If a fire alarm sounds, evacuate the building immediately. Do not attempt to fight the fire.

GLYNCO in addition

Bon fires are prohibited in all dormitory areas, which includes the parking lots.

Problems and Complaints

Any problems or complaints regarding your room should initially be discussed with the Desk Clerk, especially if emergency maintenance is needed. If it is not a maintenance emergency, you can complete an "Occupant Report of Maintenance Problems" form and leave it on your bed, prior to leaving for class. ## Mold and Mildew Control

Due to the high humidity in specific locations (Georgia and South Carolina), mold and mildew are persistent problems at FLETC. Some people are highly susceptible to mold spores, and for such people prolonged exposure can cause discomfort and may even require medical attention. You can help combat these problems by limiting the amount of moisture present in your dorm room. The following measures will reduce the high humidity that encourages the growth of mold and mildew:

- Keep doors and windows closed as much as possible;
- Set thermostats to Hi Cool;
- Run air conditioner fan at the highest speed setting;
- If a bathroom has an exhaust fan, leave the fan on for at least 5 minutes after showering;
- Do not attach makeshift air filters to the air vent;
- Do not place any items in front of or block the air condition intake air vent.
- Do not take any part of your A/C unit apart or modify it. Contact the Desk Clerk and submit a maintenance request. Conducting your own maintenance on the unit typically results in further damage, which you will be responsible for.

Department Information

Upon final departure from FLETC, remove all personal property, dispose of food and trash, and unlock your safe. “Check out” time is no later than 12:00 noon, unless otherwise coordinated with your Program Specialist and approved by Student Services Division. Leave room keys as instructed at the training delivery point.

Off-Center Housing

In some rare cases, off-Center housing is required. In order to maintain consistency, specifications for housekeeping and other services will be similar to on-Center housing. During the training week, during the hours that you are in class, do not place the “DO NOT DISTURB” sign on your door. By contract, each hotel facility is required to clean each room five times per week. By placing the “DO NOT DISTURB” sign on your door, you are inadvertently asking the facility to violate its contract with FLETC. However, if you leave your room during the evening or the weekend, close the curtains and place the “DO NOT DISTURB” sign on your door. This is to deter criminal activity. Always secure your valuables in a safe location. The housing facility will not be responsible for items (i.e., money, laptop computers, jewelry, medications, etc.) left in rooms and not properly secured. Additional room charges incurred by the occupant (i.e., long distance calls, movies, room service, additional guests, etc.) must be paid by you, to the facility, prior to checking out. You must comply with the rules and regulations of the facility that you are residing in during your training at FLETC.

Off-Center housing accommodations are subject to inspection by FLETC to ensure that the contractor is providing the services stated in the contract. If the room inspection reveals a violation for which you are responsible, you will be given a notice. Please report problems or complaints regarding off-Center housing services to the facility manager. If satisfaction is not achieved in a reasonable period of time, report the matter to your Program Specialist. You should report suspected theft, damage to property, or other security issues to the facility manager, program specialist who will notify FLETC security/Chief Security Office (CSO). The Chief Security Office will make contact with local police if required or requested.

Severe Weather Information

The FLETC's Early Warning System is a siren that alerts people to severe weather or other emergencies. Sirens are located in outdoor areas and selected indoor facilities.

Severe Thunderstorms

When a severe thunderstorm warning is issued, it means lightning, high winds, rain, and/or hail are possible. You will hear the severe thunderstorm warning signal – Thorguard horn, followed by a verbal announcement that there is a severe thunderstorm warning.” If you are outside, seek shelter immediately.

Tornadoes

A “Tornado Watch” means that conditions are favorable for tornado activity. A “Tornado Warning” means there is a distinct and immediate threat of a tornado. When FLETC announces a Tornado Warning signal, a fast siren wail is sounded, followed by a verbal announcement that there is a Tornado Warning. Seek shelter immediately. When seeking shelter from a tornado, move inside the nearest strong building. If possible, position yourself in an interior hallway or a sheltered space, preferably in a corner. Avoid rooms with glass or windows. The first floor is better than the second. For additional shelter, get under sturdy furniture such as a workbench or heavy table or desk and hold on to it. Use your arms to protect your head and neck. If you are in training, your instructor will tell you what to do.

If you are not in training, you may be able to monitor the situation via Center News monitors, electronic emergency notifications, television, internet, or FLETC social media outlets. If you do not have access to any of these, you may seek assistance from FLETC Security Dispatcher or from your assigned Program Specialist/Class Coordinator. When the threat is over, an “ALL CLEAR” announcement is made and training and other outdoor activities may resume.

Hurricane Evacuation

If a hurricane threatens our geographical area and a decision is made to evacuate FLETC, your Program Specialist and/or your agency will provide relocation instructions. FLETC has agreements with an inland location for housing and feeding of FLETC students and selected staff during an evacuation. You will be required to remove all your belongings. Be sure to bring your FLETC identification badge, government-issued identification (driver's license, agency credentials, etc.), medications and toiletry items. Before leaving your dormitory room, close and lock all windows, close the blinds and/or drapes, unplug all electrical items and lock the door as you leave. At the appropriate time, you will receive instructions from your Program Specialist concerning vehicles, large personal property items and/or your personal or duty weapon(s), based on the specific conditions/threats of the storm. The evacuation site does not allow firearms. If you have checked a firearm at FLETC, be sure to get instructions on what to do about your checked weapon. FLETC will not require all students to evacuate to the official FLETC relocation site. With approval of your agency, students will have the option of evacuating to an inland location of their choice. Students who choose to not evacuate to the official FLETC relocation site will be the responsibility of their agency.

CHELTENHAM in addition

If a hurricane threatens our geographical area and a decision is made to evacuate FLETC, training at Cheltenham will be cancelled and rescheduled for a future date. Information regarding the resumption of training will be coordinated through your agency representative. Your Program Specialist or Class Coordinator may assist with additional information regarding the resumption of training.

As a non-residential center, Cheltenham does not have a designated relocation site. Students should consult with their agency to determine a location for evacuation.

ARTESIA specific

In the event of emergency situations not mentioned here, you will be provided with the necessary guidance by your Instructor, Program Manager or other FLETC official. Emergency Evacuation Assembly Points have been established for all areas of the Artesia TDP. The Artesia TDP has been divided into color coded zones. Familiarizing yourself in advance of these locations will help ensure the evacuation process is smoother should the need arise. Please check the color-coded maps located in the training area you are using for further information.

Your use of FLETC IT systems and resources express consent to such monitoring, recording, and auditing. Violations of FLETC IT system use will be reported to the appropriate agency point of contact. Accidental violations such as access to internet sites that contain offensive materials must be immediately reported to the course instructor.

Cameras

The privacy Act and FLETC Chief Security Office (CSO) OPSEC policy limit the student use of any camera, cellphone or video cameras on FLETC. Students must protect the identities of law enforcement personnel, some of whom could be operating in an undercover role in the future. Students must also protect information, techniques and strategies that law enforcement officers employ in the execution of their duties.

FLETC policy limits camera use by students and their guests to non-training activities, social events and graduations. Students are particularly not to photograph (still or video) sensitive FLETC facilities or training in progress. Students are permitted to take photographs or video when required to do so as part of an approved course of instruction. Students are not permitted to take pictures of the instructor presentations.

Students who publish, place, or post personally-taken photographs or video footage on the Internet or in media publications without prior authorization will be subject to disciplinary action by FLETC or by their own agency.

Body Worn Camera's (BWC) are utilized in the law enforcement basic training programs for the intent of instructing students on the proper use for documenting crime, accident scenes or other events that include the confiscation and documentation of evidence/contraband. Students will activate the BWC when instructed by FLETC instructors in training scenarios based on established FLETC lesson plans. Use of the BWC by a student outside established guidelines will result in student disciplinary action. FLETC Security, Chief Security Office, OPR and local Law Enforcement are permitted to use BWC in their official duties.

Recording Devices

By FLETC policy you are prohibited from using recording devices in the classroom or any other training venues', unless the recording device is a required part of the training exercise and/or you have received prior approval to use such devices. Electronic devices, such as cell phones, smart glasses, iPads and tablets are permitted in designated areas with limited use, but the use of the recording features is strictly prohibited. During training hours while on authorized breaks, these devices are only permitted for use in an unoccupied breakout room or outside. If an emergency exists that requires the use of your personal device, communicate your needs with the instructor.

Operational Security

Operations Security (OPSEC) is defined as a countermeasures program designed to disrupt or defeat the ability of foreign intelligence services or other adversaries to exploit sensitive activities or information. FLETC OPSEC Program acts to secure against the inadvertent release or unauthorized disclosure of such information outside established control procedures. Specific, unclassified facts about FLETC and Federal law enforcement agencies' mission, intentions, capabilities, or activities are considered critical information and must be protected to ensure our adversaries are not successful.

The nature of law enforcement training and operations-related information present at FLETC creates OPSEC concerns and makes it a potential target for exploitation. During your training experience at FLETC, you are urged to practice sound OPSEC and internal security measures at all times, especially when away from FLETC. You should remember and practice the "Need to Know" principle. You should also be aware of "social engineering," which is a common intelligence collector method of befriending and/or gaining trust to elicit critical information through various means (e.g. doing favors, giving gifts, use of alcohol, etc.). Also, you should practice good OPSEC during interactions with foreign national individuals. Finally, you should refrain from discussing critical information in public places.

If you perceive that you have been approached by an individual with more than a casual interest in FLETC activities, contact:

Weapons

Under 31 CFR part 700.11 you are prohibited from bring weapons and ammunition, personal or government issued, onto the facility. FLETC definition of weapons consists of any operable or inoperable firearm including: revolvers, pistols, shotguns, automatic weapons, air rifles, BB/ pellet and cap guns, smoke grenades, Tasers, swords, knives with blades in excess of four (4) inches, or any device capable of propelling darts or arrows, such as bows, compound bows, and crossbows. Ammunition or projectiles used in these weapons are also prohibited.

Upon graduation and departure from FLETC, graduates may retrieve their weapons. If a graduate must remain at FLETC for an extended period of time after graduation, the weapon must remain “checked in” and, upon final departure from FLETC, graduates may then retrieve their weapons.

While attending a training program at FLETC, credentialed students can retrieve their government-issued weapons for off-duty carry. The Program Specialist/Class Coordinator requires prior notification. This is especially important if the government-issued weapon is stored at the Firearms Division for training purposes.

Uniforms and Other Student Attire

Training Uniforms

Your personal appearance should always reflect a positive image upon FLETC, your agency, and the law enforcement profession. Therefore, you must observe high standards of appearance at all times.

The various training programs at FLETC have different uniform standards and/or civilian dress codes. Students attending Center Basic or Center Integrated Basic training programs report to their FLETC orientations wearing either business attire or, in the case of some uniformed police agencies, their Class A agency uniform. Students attending Center Advanced training programs typically report to their FLETC orientations wearing business casual attire, a FLETC training uniform or an agency training uniform. Students attending Agency Specific Basic or Agency Advanced training programs will receive reporting instructions from the respective agency prior to arrival.

Reasonable Accommodation Process

Requesting Reasonable Accommodation. A student seeking reasonable accommodation or Personal Assistance Services (PAS) while attending training at FLETC Training Delivery Points (TDP's) must submit a request for accommodation to their employing agency in accordance with their agency's reasonable accommodation/PAS procedures.

Agency Decision. The student's employing agency must evaluate the student's request and conduct the individualized assessment in accordance with their agency's procedures. When it is not clear whether an accommodative solution is feasible or what accommodations or PAS would be most effective at FLETC, the agency representative must consult with the appropriate subject matter experts at FLETC (program specialists, classroom coordinators, student services, etc.) and/or contact the FLETC EEO Office Disability Program Manager (DPM) or Reasonable Accommodation Coordinator (RAC) for technical guidance. The student's employing agency makes a decision as to which accommodation would be most effective by engaging in the interactive process with the student and FLETC, as needed.

Medical Information. Student medical information must not be sought or maintained by FLETC. If received by FLETC, student medical information will be deleted or destroyed.

Timeframes for Implementing Student Accommodations. The agency submission of the appropriate form at least 30 days in advance of the student's attendance at FLETC conducted programs and activities arrival generally provides FLETC sufficient time to implement the approved accommodation or PAS. In the event a reasonable accommodation or PAS cannot be implemented in time, the agency may need to defer the student to a future available class.

Funding Student Accommodation Costs. There may charge back to the student's employing agency any costs incurred by FLETC that are associated with the implementation of a student's reasonable accommodation. Student requests for PAS must be funded by their respective employing agencies.

Student Complaint Procedures. FLETC does not render decisions on students' requests for reasonable accommodation and PAS. Students should adhere to the complaint procedures prescribed by their employing agency. Students may contact the FLETC EEO Office at any time for assistance.

FLETC Implementation of Agency Decision. When the student's request is approved by their agency, and after preliminary consultation with FLETC to ensure the accommodation can be implemented by FLETC, the agency representative must notify the appropriate FLETC official(s) listed below as far in advance of the student's attendance at FLETC conducted programs and activities as practicable:

"For Official Use Only" Information

"For Official Use Only" (FOUO) is a designation for information that is law enforcement sensitive. FOUO information must be protected from unauthorized disclosure. FOUO information must be handled, disseminated, stored and destroyed in accordance with specific guidelines. Inadvertent release of such information could be detrimental to the United States, FLETC, and/or Federal law enforcement agencies. FLETC textbooks, FLETC "thumb drives" and FLETC issued laptop computers all contain FOUO information. These items are considered FOUO because they could be sold for profit and because they could compromise U.S. government intentions, capabilities, operations, activities or otherwise threaten operations security of the law enforcement agencies that train at FLETC. When unattended, FOUO materials may be secured in your dormitory room or in a locker within a FLETC classroom building. Within FLETC dormitory rooms, students should take further steps to secure FOUO information by placing the materials within a locked closet or locked container. When students are away from their dormitory rooms, FOUO training materials should not be left in "plain view."

While FLETC encourages graduates to maintain FOUO student materials for future reference, FOUO student materials can also be properly destroyed. Throughout FLETC's various classroom buildings there are secure plastic storage bins that are labeled "FOUO." All training materials deposited in the secure plastic bins are properly destroyed on a routine basis.

FLETC training venues, equipment, supplies, technologies, instructional content and delivery methodology are developed and designed to meet the needs of our FLETC students. (FLETC Stock Image)

Transportation

Privately Owned Vehicles (POV)

If you operate a POV on FLETC property, you are subject to traffic and parking regulations. FLETC Security will cite violators as appropriate. Violators are subject to assessment of points, which can result in the revocation of driving privileges on FLETC.

ARTESIA in addition

New Mexico state law and FLETC policy always require anyone operating a vehicle on FLETC to wear a seatbelt, while the vehicle is in motion.

CHARLESTON in addition

A valid driver's license, proof of insurance, registration, and vehicle tag number are required before a FLETC parking permit will be issued. A student parking decal will be issued and must be properly displayed at all times while your POV is parked on FLETC property. Your POV must be parked at your dormitory Monday through Friday from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. All students housed on FLETC must either walk or utilize FLETC transportation provided. Any Unless specifically authorized by an instructor, food and drink are also prohibited in FLETC government vehicles.

Traffic Point Penalties

Violators are subject to assessment of points for each citation at FLETC. The accumulation period for points is two years. Names of violators and their points will be kept on file for two years, starting with the date the violation occurred. If you return to FLETC within two years, the record will still be in effect and any previous violation will still be charged against you. A period of suspension previously assigned and not completed will resume upon return within the two-year period.

The Director, or other designated official, reserves the authority to extend suspensions or permanently revoke driving privileges on FLETC for repeat offenders or other persons whose driving records, in the Director's judgment, warrant such action to ensure the safety of staff, students and visitors.

Prohibited Use of Bicycles

The student use of bicycles, scooters, skateboards, hover boards, roller skates, and any variations thereof are prohibited at all FLETC training facilities, always.

Pedestrian Safety

Pedestrians always have the right-of-way, when crossing streets, so long as they are utilizing designated crosswalks. Pedestrians should always use caution to ensure that traffic is stopped. Drivers should slow down when passing and give way to these formations.

Outdoor Physical Activity Restrictions Due to Weather

Heat stress is a major concern due to the combination of physical activity, humidity, and soaring temperatures in this area. The following flag warnings will be posted on the Training Delivery Point:

Blue Flag Category 1

All activities will proceed as usual; however, instructors will not allow students to wear sweat clothing (or any other clothing that covers the arms and/or legs) during outdoor physical conditioning and the wearing of sweat clothing will not be permitted for any staff or students using the outside PTD facilities (tracks, obstacle course). The prohibition of sweat clothing for outdoor activity applies to categories 1 through 5. In any 2-hour training session, 10-minute breaks will be provided at 50-minute intervals with fluids available for replacement of lost body fluids.

Green Flag Category 2

All activities will proceed as usual; however, instructors should make frequent inquiries and observations of the students as to their physical condition and, in any 2-hour training session, 10-minute breaks will be provided at 50-minute intervals with fluids available for replacement of lost body fluids. Physical conditioning classes will be restricted to a maximum of 50-minutes outdoor physical conditioning.

Yellow Flag Category 3

Intense physical activities such as endurance running (half mile or longer), intense callisthenic conditioning, obstacle course testing, shotgun stress, and similar activities are to be modified to reduce sun exposure and should be more strictly supervised. In any 2-hour training session, breaks will be provided at 40-minute intervals with fluids available for replacement of lost body fluids. Physical conditioning class will be restricted to a maximum of 40 minutes outdoor physical conditioning.

Red Flag Category 4

The intense physical activities as noted in Category 3 are to be conducted inside or reduced in intensity and constantly supervised. Additional rest periods will be provided. In any 2-hour training session, breaks will be provided at 30-minute intervals with fluids available for replacement of lost body fluids. Physical conditioning classes will be restricted to a maximum of 30 minutes outdoor physical conditioning.

Black Flag Category 5

All outdoor FLETC training courses will be modified as necessary to ensure the training is conducted safely. Some examples of program modifications are: moving the training indoors, increased water breaks, providing indoor shelter, and decreasing the physical intensity of the existing course. Additionally, NO ORGANIZED OR SCHEDULED OUTDOOR PHYSICAL CONDITIONING will be conducted during this category.

Rhabdomyolysis

Rhabdomyolysis is the breakdown of muscle fibers resulting in the release of muscle fiber contents (myoglobin) into the bloodstream. Some of these are harmful to the kidney and frequently result in kidney damage.

Causes, incidence, and risk factors:

All strenuous exercise results in some degree of muscle fiber breakdown. When muscle is damaged, a protein pigment called myoglobin is released into the bloodstream and filtered out of the body by the kidneys. Dead muscle tissue may cause a large amount of fluid to move from the blood into the muscle, reducing the fluid volume of the body and leading to shock and reduced blood flow to the kidneys. Individuals at risk include law enforcement trainees, athletes, and individuals in poor physical condition and sporadic exercisers. The non-exercise risk factors are high ambient temperatures, illness, medications, and inherited defects.

Symptoms:

- Abnormal urine color (dark, red, or cola colored)
- General weakness or fatigue
- Muscle stiffness, weakness, tenderness, pain

Prevention:

Drink plenty of fluids after strenuous exercise to dilute the urine and flush the myoglobin out of the kidney. Proper hydration is also necessary after any condition or event that may involve damage to skeletal muscle.

Report immediately if you show signs or symptoms.

METHICILLIN-RESISTANT STAPHYLOCOCCUS AUREAS (MRSA)

MRSA causes a staph infection that is resistant to several common antibiotics. There are two types of infection. Hospital associated MRSA happens to people in healthcare settings. Community-associated MRSA happens to people who have close skin-to-skin contact with others, such as athletes involved in football and wrestling.

To prevent community-associated MRSA:

Practice good hygiene;

- Keep cuts and scrapes clean and covered with a bandage until healed;
- Avoid contact with other people's wounds or bandages;
- Avoid sharing personal items, such as towels, washcloths, razors, or clothes;
- Wash soiled sheets, towels and clothes in hot water with bleach and dry in a hot dryer.

ARTESIA in addition

FLETC students should report to the Health Unit, Building 2, if a wound appears to be infected. Treatment may include draining the infection and antibiotics.

Counseling Services Program (CSP)

Counseling Services Program (CSP) provides confidential, professional, and timely stress management and crisis intervention services that are available to all FLETC and PO Staff, Students, and their immediate family members. The CSP Psychologists are Licensed professional counselors and are available on-site (FLETC Glynco only), via telephone, and/or video teleconferencing at all points of training distribution.

For more information on CSP, the services available to you as a student, and/or how CSP may be able to help you should there be a need, please call \(912\) 267-2633 during normal business hours.

If you experience an emergency after normal business hours, please call the Counseling Services After Hours Psychological Crisis Line by dialing \(877\) 235-7337 to be connected with the on-call counselor.

FLETC CHURCH SERVICES

The Artesia community is very proud of their association with the Artesia FLETC TDP. Many churches in the area offer transportation services upon request from FLETC students. Most denominations have representation in our area. Contact your Program Specialist for additional information on service times and locations in our community.

A non-denominational church service is offered Sundays in the theater located next to the Deli/Coffee Shop in FLETC's Student Center. Information on service times and locations in our community may be obtained in FLETC's Student Center at the Recreation Specialist's Desk.

The Brunswick area offers a wide variety of Church services for various denominations. Contact your Program Specialist for additional information on service times and locations in our community.

Exposure to Loud Noises / Explosions

While at FLETC-Glynco, students may hear loud noises, to include explosions from munitions training. Please be advised that these noises/explosions are especially audible for those students training at or near the Driving ranges.

Safety and Environment

General Safety

FLETC is committed to Occupational Safety and Health. As a part of this commitment, you will receive safety training during your instruction. If you have safety questions or concerns during your training at FLETC, ask for clarification or further instruction. To ensure a safe and healthful work environment, you are encouraged to:

- Take responsibility for following all safety procedures;
- Stay aware of your environment;
- Recognize dangerous or unsafe conditions;
- Report possible hazards immediately to your class coordinator or instructor.

FIRE SAFETY

You should locate the closest exits when entering any building structure on FLETC and familiarize yourself with the appropriate evacuation routes. Do not try to fight a fire. Whenever a fire alarm sounds, you should evacuate immediately.

Evacuation routes are posted near entrances in all large buildings at FLETC. Fire extinguishers are located at most training sites and buildings but are to be used only by trained personnel.

SMOKING AND TOBACCO USE POLICY

FLETC is a smoke-free workplace. Use of tobacco products and vapor devices are strictly prohibited within 25 feet of all FLETC buildings including trailers, dormitories and recreational buildings.

Proper disposal of tobacco products is required. Cigarette butts should be extinguished and disposed of in appropriate containers and not on the ground. Wastes from chewing tobacco and similar products should be properly disposed of in a toilet and not in a waste can or on the ground. Janitorial service employees are not required to empty containers with these types of waste.

Smoking, including the use of smokeless tobacco products and vapor devices, is allowed in designated smoking areas only.

The use of tobacco or vapor devices is prohibited in dorm rooms.

JOGGING

Many students run or jog for personal fitness. If you do run or jog, FLETC recommends that you use the certified jogging routes. Stay off the main roads, where alternate paths are available. During hours of darkness, it is recommended that students wear reflective clothing and/or materials. While jogging, always be aware of vehicle traffic.

SUSTAINABILITY AT THE FLETC CAMPUS

FLETC has committed to a series of actions to improve our impact on the environment. These actions affect areas such as energy use reduction, water use reduction, recycling of various waste streams and renewable energy.

There are several washing machines provided for student use. Most of these machines have been replaced with front loading types. These machines use far less water than conventional top loaders and are more energy efficient as well. Please note that special detergent marked as “he” (for high efficiency) is required for use in these machines. We also request that the doors to the machines be left open when not in use.

You may be interested to know that many other waste streams are involved in the recycling program at FLETC. These include brass and lead from expended ammunition, used motor oil, car tires, electronics and batteries of all sorts to name a few.

CONSERVATION

Water and energy are expensive. Turn off lights, water and appliances; when not in use. In addition, windows and doors should remain closed when the air conditioning or heat is in operation.

HAZARDOUS CHEMICALS

Storage of environmentally unfriendly chemicals such as gasoline, oil, or charcoal lighter fluid on FLETC property is strictly prohibited. If you observe these types of items in unauthorized areas on FLETC:

WILDLIFE

ARTESIA specific

The two campuses that make up the Artesia FLETC TDP consist of large areas of natural desert landscape that attract a variety of wildlife. Some of these are protected wildlife species. Coexisting with the wildlife are insects and pests such as ticks, fleas, and mosquitoes. Many types of wildlife and pests carry diseases that can be transmitted to humans. Snakes, including some that are venomous such as Rattle Snakes are commonly found within FLETC Artesia borders.

Feral cats and dogs can also be found at times on FLETC. They can reproduce and have kittens/puppies. Do not feed or attempt to pet them because they are usually not tamed and can scratch or bite. You should be aware of the environment and comply with the following restrictions:

- Do not feed the wildlife;
- Do not pet or attempt to pet the wildlife;
- Do not harass the wildlife;

Contact FLETC Security Dispatcher at \(575\) 748-8136 to report any issues with animals on FLETC sites.

reduce their number but no method is 100% effective. FLETC-Charleston also coordinates with Charleston County Public Works to spray larger areas on a regular basis throughout the summer season. Early morning and late evenings when temperatures are cooler are the worst times for these insects. DEET-based insect repellent or “Skin-So-Soft” oil are preferred deterrents for these insects. Long sleeved shirts and long pants are also recommended.

Palmetto bugs (American Cockroach) are especially prevalent in our area. Charleston is a low-lying, damp, semi-tropical environment and presents a perfect habitat for these insects. Their presence is more an indicator of your geographic location than the cleanliness of your accommodations. At worst, these insects are a minor nuisance. Don’t be surprised if you see one or two. DO NOT FEED OR APPROACH WILDLIFE.

Contact FLETC Security Dispatcher at \(843\) 974-6303 or 6304 to report any issues with animals on FLETC sites.

CHARLESTON specific

There are several different varieties of mammals that are present in the area and may be encountered. Raccoons and opossums are common to the area and may be encountered on FLETC-Charleston campus occasionally. Both of these mammals are nocturnal meaning that they are active mainly at night. You may see them roaming around in the very late evening hours before sunset or very early in the morning before sunrise. Neither poses any threat if given the proper distance.

There are several varieties of biting insects here at FLETC-Charleston. Sand gnats are the most abundant. They leave red, circular marks on the skin. Some students mistake these marks for bed bug bites as they are not familiar with these insects. Mosquitoes are also plentiful. Some outdoor training areas may be equipped with “mosquito magnets” and/or sprayed to help

CHELTENHAM specific

FLETC includes natural wooded areas that attract a variety of wildlife including some protected wildlife species. Some of the wildlife that may be encountered around the facility includes deer, geese, wild turkey, fox, hawks, eagles and snakes (including venomous species). Insects and pests such as ticks, flies, and mosquitoes are commonplace. Many types of wildlife and pests carry diseases that can be transmitted to humans. Use appropriate precautions to minimize the incidence of unfavorable encounters with wildlife and pests.

Spring can be a particularly sensitive time for some species. Female Canada geese lay their eggs in ground nests near water. A male Canada goose guards the female and the nest. He can be very aggressive, attacking intruders with his wings and bill. White-tailed fawns are often left hidden in a natural environment while the doe feeds, sometimes for several hours. People may encounter fawns and fear they have been abandoned. The proper response is to avoid the area as the doe will return.

Contact FLETC Security Dispatcher at \(301\) 877-8413 to report wildlife concerns.

GLYNCO specific

FLETC includes natural wooded areas that attract a variety of wildlife. Some of these are protected wildlife species. Coexisting with the wildlife are insects and pests such as ticks, flies, and mosquitoes. Many types of wildlife and pests carry diseases that can be transmitted to humans; therefore, FLETC has initiated pest control programs that include the use of mosquito magnets at the training sites, sprays applied to appropriate areas to decrease the number of ticks, and deer feeding stations that use tick control products. Snakes, including some that are poisonous, are commonly found in wooded areas and around water.

In the areas on the Glynnco Training Delivery Point that have ponds, you are likely to see Canada geese. The spring of the year is a particularly vulnerable time of year for Canada geese since the females are laying their eggs in a ground nest near water. The male Canada goose guards the female and the nest. He can be very aggressive, attacking predators with his wings and bill. Death of the geese can be prevented by driving FLETC speed limit or below which should allow an alert driver to see the adult Canada geese and their young in the spring and summer.

During the spring, the Glynnco campus experiences one of the beautiful natural occurrences of the birth of fawns by our white-tailed deer population. This natural occurrence brings its own challenges and a need for staff and students to be sensitive to this process. Because there are always changes occurring on campus, does may struggle with protecting their fawns during their daily movements and well-meaning people can make the situation worse by trying to help. The proper human response for the safety of the deer is to leave the does and fawns alone and do not approach them. Fawns can walk at birth and within a few days begin to nibble on vegetation. Does are very protective of their young. When the female deer feed, they “hide” the fawn(s) until they are old enough to follow her at about four weeks of age. The fawn will lie quietly on the ground. In a natural environment, its spots help camouflage the fawn from predators. If a doe has more than one fawn, she “hides” them in separate places. The doe may be gone for a few hours feeding before she returns. Because our campus is so neatly maintained, there are few places for a fawn to hide in cover. Fawns can sometimes be seen in plain sight of people, however, they have not been abandoned. The mother will eventually return to her fawn unless people interfere. Fawns removed from their mothers by humans “rescuing” the young deer often die. As is the rule for all wildlife on FLETC, feeding the deer is not allowed.

Feral cats and dogs can also be found at times on FLETC. They can reproduce and have kittens/puppies. Do not feed or attempt to pet them because they are usually not tamed and can scratch or bite. You should be aware of the environment and comply with the following restrictions:

- Do not feed the wildlife;
- Do not pet or attempt to pet the wildlife;
- Do not harass the wildlife;
- Do not swim, boat, paddleboard, or canoe in FLETC ponds.

Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO)

The EEO Program encompasses the special emphasis programs as well as the discrimination complaint process. This program was established to ensure the equitable treatment of all individuals in employment, promotion, training, and other personnel management actions without regard to their race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, retaliation, disability, or genetics. This includes sexual harassment.

You have the right to work in an environment free from harassment. Harassment is any unwelcome verbal or physical conduct based on one of the EEO protected bases (race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age [40 and over], retaliation, disability or genetics), that is so objective as to alter the conditions of your employment or where the conduct culminates in a tangible employment action or is sufficiently severe or pervasive as to create a hostile work environment.

If you are the victim of harassment, or if you observe harassment at the FLETC you may:

- Notify your Program Specialist or your agency representative.
- Contact the EEO office within 45 days of the alleged matter.
- Contact the Office of Inspector General directly.
